

CTS Testimonials

"Having my CTS certification earns respect on the job site, enabling me to have more opportunity to communicate my ideas."
– Alfred Navarro, CTS
Enko Systems, Inc.

"Clients are not just asking us if we have any CTS-I holders, they're asking how many CTS-I holders we have."
– Daniel Brewster, CTS-I
Inter Technologies, Inc.

Start the Certification Process

Congratulations! You've made a great decision to pursue InfoComm certification! Here are the simple steps to help you determine your readiness to take the exam:

1. Read the Candidate Handbook. It provides valuable information about the testing process and includes a copy of the application.
2. Self assess your knowledge, skills and abilities against those required for the exam. Do this by familiarizing yourself with the exam content outline for the certification exam you wish to take.
3. Use the resources InfoComm provides as well as others you may find helpful. Click on the certification you are seeking and you'll find references, PDFs, assessment tools and in-depth analysis of the exam content outline.

Certification is not a guarantee for performance by certified individuals. Certified Technology Specialist (CTS) holders at all levels of certification have demonstrated audiovisual knowledge and/or skills. Certified individuals adhere to the CTS Code of Ethics and Conduct and maintain their status through continued education. Certification demonstrates commitment to professional growth in the audiovisual industry and is strongly supported by InfoComm.

All eligibility, application, score reports, special accommodation requests and general inquiries regarding InfoComm certification will be handled through the InfoComm International Certification Office, with headquarters located in Fairfax, VA, U.S.A. Purchases of education, membership or any other InfoComm services are not required to seek certification.
