

Film/Video Equipment Service Co. relies on iQ

Dear InfoComm IQ,

We have worked with the iQ team for over five years because they have an unbelievable passion and dedication for the clients they serve and support; clients like Film/Video Equipment Service Co., Inc.

Smaller companies like ours rely on the brain trust of iQ to maintain a quality website because we need the iQ program to remain competitive in today's market. The lead-management system, the information requests and the new business that we garner regularly from working with iQ has certainly been a tremendous benefit to our continued growth and sales efforts. We utilized the many features offered through iQ to expand our own knowledge, improve our product base and, most importantly, our customer and sales base."
